1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Defendant American Honda Motor Co., Inc. (“Defendant” or “Honda”) sold 3 hundreds of thousands of Class Vehicles<sup>1</sup> with idle stop systems that consistently 4 failed to restart the vehicles in routine driving conditions, including in intersections 5 and traffic, endangering occupants and causing wrecks. For the vast majority of 6 Class Vehicles, Honda failed to address this known defect through extended 7 warranty until after this lawsuit was filed. Even then, it erected a hurdle—service 8 centers were forced to verify that the vehicles did not restart, despite the 9 intermittent nature of the defect—that denied its customers a reliable opportunity 10 to obtain the necessary repair (i.e., the “Replacement Starter”). After three years 11 of hard-fought, contingent fee litigation, Class Counsel eliminated that barrier for 12 Class Vehicle owners nationwide. And, through post-settlement diligence, Class 13 Counsel recognized that Honda had omitted 28,712 Class Vehicles from even its 14 limited, pre-settlement market actions. These Class Vehicles are now eligible.
15 Class Counsel has achieved relief for Class Members and enhanced automotive 16 safety.

17 To reach this point, Class Counsel undertook 13,388 hours of work on 18 behalf of the Class and spent $823,131.24 of its own money on litigation expenses.
19 Under the relevant fee-shifting law, discussed below, this enormous contingency 20 risk, along with the quality of the work performed and the result achieved, compels 21 a substantial fee award. Plaintiffs seek an award of $35,250,000.00 for attorneys’ 22 fees, which currently represents a 2.74 multiplier on Class Counsel’s lodestar, and 23 will likely represent a multiplier below 2.7 once additional time, through final 24

25 <sup>1</sup> The Class Vehicles are all 2015–2020 Acura TLXs, 2016–2020 Acura MDXs, 26 2016–2021 Honda Pilots, 2019–2021 Honda Passports, and 2020–2021 Honda 27 Ridgelines sold or leased in the United States equipped with a NP0 engine, nine-28 speed automatic transmission, and equipped with the Auto Idle Stop (“AIS”) feature. Settlement Agreement (ECF No. 248-1) (“SA”) § I, ¶ 15.

1 approval, is accounted for. This is well within the range of accepted multipliers in 2 the Ninth Circuit, and represents 13% of the overall Settlement value, far below 3 the Ninth Circuit’s 25% benchmark. Plaintiffs also seek reimbursement of 4 Plaintiffs’ counsel’s reasonable expenses and costs of no less than $823,131.24,<sup>2</sup> 5 and service awards of $7,500.00 to each Class Representative for their 6 contributions to the successful prosecution of this action.<sup>3</sup> The requested fee, 7 expense, and service awards will not come out of the Class members’ pockets or 8 reduce their settlement consideration in any manner, but, under the negotiated 9 terms of the Settlement, will be paid by Honda over and above the Settlement 10 relief.

11 II. THE LITIGATION

12 Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval, the Joint Declaration of H.
13 Clay Barnett, III, Adam J. Levitt, and Andrew T. Traylor in Support of Plaintiffs’ 14 Motion for Preliminary Approval, and supplemental filings detail the case’s 15 procedural history, discovery, and extended, hard-fought settlement negotiations.
16 See ECF Nos. 245, 245-1, 245-3, 249.

17 A. Summary of the Procedural History

18 On June 21, 2022, Plaintiff Hamid Balooki filed a complaint, ECF No. 1, 19 alleging that the AIS system in Class Vehicles is unreliable and unsafe. Id. ¶¶ 28– 20 38. On April 14, 2023, Plaintiffs filed their First Consolidated Amended Class 21 Action Complaint, ECF No. 73, followed by their Second Consolidated Amended 22 Complaint on May 12, 2023, ECF No. 82. On September 27, 2023, the Court 23

24
25 <sup>2</sup> As stated above, Class Counsel has incurred $823,131.24 in costs, to date. Class 26 Counsel seeks an order providing for future substantiated costs incurred in attaining final approval and final judgment.

27 <sup>3</sup> All capitalized terms herein have the same meaning as defined in the Settlement 28 Agreement, unless otherwise stated.

1 denied, in large part, Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss Plaintiff’s Second 2 Consolidated Amended Complaint. ECF No. 110.

3 The parties engaged in over eighteen months of discovery. Joint Decl. ¶ 19.
4 Honda produced, and Plaintiffs reviewed, over 180,000 pages of documents. Id.
5 ¶ 21. The parties participated in three informal discovery conferences with 6 Magistrate Judge Kim. Id. ¶ 22. Plaintiffs deposed Honda and ten of its current or 7 former employees and three of its experts. Id. ¶ 23. Honda deposed 24 named 8 Plaintiffs. Id.

9 On October 3, 2024, the Court certified eleven statewide classes (the 10 “Certified Classes”). ECF No. 175 at 27–28. The Ninth Circuit denied Defendant’s 11 petition for permission to appeal. Stewart v. Am. Honda Motor Co., No. 24-6349 12 (9th Cir.) (ECF No. 9.1). On December 26, 2024, the Court denied Defendant’s 13 summary judgment motion for all certified claims except for unjust enrichment.
14 ECF No. 221. The Court set the case for trial on May 20, 2025. ECF No. 213. On 15 February 10, 2025, Honda moved for decertification of the Certified Classes. ECF 16 No. 228.

17 On February 26, 2025, while the decertification motion was pending, the 18 Parties engaged in mediation with Anthony Piazza of Mediated Negotiations. Joint 19 Decl. ¶¶ 29–30. The Parties reached a framework for a nationwide settlement 20 during their February 26, 2025, mediation and executed a term sheet on March 24, 21 2025. Id. ¶¶ 30–31.

22 On May 12, 2025, after exchanging drafts and finalizing the Settlement 23 Agreement and exhibits, Plaintiffs filed their Unopposed Motion for Preliminary 24 Approval of Class Action Settlement, ECF No. 245, the Settlement Agreement, 25 ECF No. 246, and their declaration and memorandum in support. ECF Nos. 245-26 1, 245-3.

27 On June 9, 2025, this Court entered its Order preliminarily approving the 28 Class Settlement, directing notice to the Class, appointing Class Counsel and Class

1 Representatives, and scheduling a Final Approval Hearing for October 20, 2025.
2 ECF No. 249.

3 Following preliminary approval, Class Counsel learned that, despite 4 Honda’s dissemination of amended service bulletins that removed the verification 5 hurdle to receiving the upgraded starter under warranty, certain Honda service 6 centers were still insisting that they verify the defect before they would provide a 7 free starter. At Class Counsel’s insistence, Honda: (a) promulgated a reminder 8 message in the “iN Newsflash”—a weekly dealer publication—that reminded 9 dealers about the amended service bulletins; and (b) launched a training module 10 that was required viewing (with affirmation of viewing required) to all dealership 11 service personnel, which also repeated the iN messaging about the amended 12 service bulletin. Joint Decl. ¶¶ 51–53.

13 Further, in July 2025, Plaintiffs discovered that, in connection with 14 NHTSA’s investigation (EA25-004) into Auto Idle Stop No-Restart in Honda and 15 Acura vehicles, Honda reported that there were 144,010 total VINs associated with 16 certain model year 2017–2018 and 2020 Acura MDX Vehicles, including 74,120 17 additional VINs for the 2017, 2018, and 2020 Acura MDX vehicles that were not 18 part of the VINs that Honda identified as Class Vehicles, and which were used by 19 the Settlement Administrator for the purposes of providing notice to the Settlement 20 Class Members. Id. ¶¶ 48–50. Accordingly, the Parties filed multiple joint 21 stipulations asking the Court for an extension of time for Plaintiffs to file their 22 Motion for Final Approval, while the Parties investigated the significant 23 discrepancy in Class Vehicles and worked to ensure that Honda service centers 24 were complying with the terms of the settlement. ECF Nos. 252, 252-1, 253, 256, 25 256-1, 257.

26 On September 3, 2025, the Parties submitted a joint status report advising 27 the Court that the Parties’ investigation discovered that Honda had omitted 28 approximately 28,712 model year 2020 Acura MDX vehicles (“Additional MDX

1 Vehicles”) from the 2023 market action that provided a software update and a 10-2 year/unlimited mile warranty extension for the Auto Idle Stop. ECF No. 258.

3 On October 27, 2025, the Parties filed a Joint Status Report to update the 4 Court regarding the Parties’ diligent efforts to address the obstacles to the full, 5 successful implementation of the Settlement, including Honda’s progress in 6 obtaining necessary approvals for a market action for the Additional MDX 7 Vehicles. Honda has now obtained those approvals, and the Additional MDX 8 Vehicles-Class Vehicles under the terms of the settlement—are now eligible to 9 receive the software update and free starter replacement.

10 B. Summary of the Settlement

11 As part of the Settlement, Honda has implemented the Revised Service 12 Bulletins, the Extended Warranty, the Extended Claim Period, and the Out-of-13 Pocket Claims Process.<sup>4</sup> Under these provisions, Class Members, nationwide, are 14 entitled to the following relief:

Removal of Verification Hurdle	Starting at preliminary approval, Honda sent revised Service Bulletins to all Authorized Honda Dealerships and Authorized Acura Dealerships with a modified “Inspection Procedure” that removes all language in these bulletins reflecting or related to AIS No-Restart symptom verification or duplication as a precondition to receiving the repair procedure described therein. SA § III.1.
Extended Claim Period	An Extended Claim Period for 2015 and 2016 model year Class Vehicles (24 months and 18 months, respectively), beginning from the date of preliminary approval, June 9, 2025. SA § III.2.

27 <sup>4</sup> Pursuant to the Settlement Agreement (SA § III), Honda issued the Revised 28 Service Bulletins on July 8, 2025, in advance of the Effective Date.

Out-of-Pocket Reimbursement	Class Members may submit claims for out-of-pocket expenses incurred to repair or replace a starter in their Covered Vehicle(s) and rental vehicle and towing costs that were not otherwise reimbursed and that were incurred before the judgment here becomes final. SA § III.3.
Additional MDX Vehicles	Due to Class Counsel’s post-settlement diligence, 28,712 model year 2020 Acura MDX vehicles, Class Vehicles under the Settlement, are now eligible for software update and starter replacement under Honda’s market actions. SA § III.1.

The Settlement extends its benefits to all Settlement Class Members who purchased vehicles nationwide. Not only does this provide benefits to hundreds of thousands more affected owners, but it also helps ensure that all Honda dealers, across the country, will be informed of their obligation to provide the A53 Starter replacement under the amended Service Bulletins. This eliminates the risk that a Class Member who purchased in a certified state and moves to a non-certified state will be denied extended warranty relief due to confusion by the out-of-state dealership.

III. ARGUMENT

A. Plaintiffs’ Counsel Are Entitled to Fees by Agreement and as Prevailing Parties.

“In a certified class action, the court may award reasonable attorney’s fees and nontaxable costs that are authorized by law or by the parties’ agreement.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(h).

Here, Plaintiffs are entitled to attorneys’ fees under California law. See In re Hyundai & Kia Fuel Econ. Litig., 926 F.3d 539, 561 (9th Cir. 2019) (“By default, California courts apply California law ‘unless a party litigant timely involves the law of a foreign state’ . . . .”) (quoting Wash. Mut. Bank, FA v. Superior

1 Ct., 15 P.3d 1071, 1080–81 (Cal. 2001)). Pursuant to the Parties’ stipulation, the 2 nationwide Settlement Class has asserted claims for relief under California law.
3 ECF No. 239 (Parties’ stipulation), ECF No. 242 ¶¶ 581–642 (operative Fifth 4 Amended Complaint). Plaintiffs are entitled to attorneys’ fees and costs under the 5 Consumers Legal Remedies Act (“CRLA”), California Civil Code § 1780(e), and 6 the Private Attorney General Statute (“PAGA”), California Civil Procedure 7 § 1021.5.<sup>5</sup> See Sadowska v. Volkswagen Grp. of Am., Inc., 2013 WL 9600948, at 8 *8 (C.D. Cal. Sep. 25, 2013) (“As the prevailing party, Plaintiffs are entitled to 9 attorneys’ fees and expenses under CLRA.”); Graham v. DaimlerChrysler Corp., 10 101 P.3d 140 (Cal. 2004) (“It is well settled that attorney fees under 1021.5 may 11 be awarded for consumer class action suits benefiting a large number of people.”).

12 Further, while retaining the right to oppose Plaintiffs’ fee request, Honda 13 agreed to pay Plaintiffs’ attorneys’ fees and expenses, separate and apart from the 14 benefits made available under the settlement, to the extent awarded. SA § IX.B.

15 B. The Requested Fees May Be Awarded Under the Lodestar or 16 Percentage-of-Recovery Methodologies.

17 Determining reasonable attorneys’ fees “should not result in a second major 18 litigation.” Fox v. Vice, 563 US 826, 838 (2011) (quoting Hensley v. Eckhart, 461 19 U.S. 424, 437 (1983)). “Trial courts need not, and indeed should not, become 20 green-eyeshade accountants.” Id. “The essential goal in shifting fees (to either 21 party) is to do rough justice, not to achieve auditing perfection.” Id. The requested 22
23

24 <sup>5</sup> Even if the Court applied the law from the other Class Representatives’ states, 25 Plaintiffs’ counsel are entitled to fees. See Ala. Code § 8-19-10(a)(3) (AL); Conn.
26 Gen Stat. Ann. § 42-110G(d) (Conn.); Ind. Code § 24-5-0.5-4(a) (Ind.); La. Civ.
27 Code Ann. art. 2545 (LA); Md. Code Ann., Com. Law § 13-408(b) (MD); N.H.
28 Rev. Stat. Ann. § 358-A:10-a(I) (N.H.); 73 Pa. Stat. Ann. § 201-9.2(a) (PA); 6 R.I.
Gen. Laws Ann. § 6-13.1-5.2(d) (R.I.); Tex. Bus. & Com. Code Ann. § 17.50(d) (TX); Va. Code Ann. § 59.1-204(B) (VA); Wash. Rev. Code § 19.182.150 (WA).

1 fee award here is reasonable given Class Counsel’s efforts, in the face of 2 substantial opposition, and the excellent benefits secured for consumers.

3 In the Ninth Circuit, courts may use two methods to evaluate the 4 reasonableness of fee request—the lodestar method and the percentage-of-5 recovery method. See In re Bluetooth Headset Prod. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 6 941 (9th Cir. 2011); Hyundai, 926 F.3d at 570. “When valuing the settlement is 7 difficult or impossible, the lodestar method may prove more convenient but no 8 presumption in favor of either the percentage or lodestar method encumbers the 9 district court’s discretion to choose one or the other.” Hyundai, 926 F.3d at 570.
10 Whichever is chosen, courts often employ the other as a cross-check. In re Apple 11 Inc. Device Performance Litig., 50 F.4th 769, 784 (9th Cir. 2022). By either 12 measure, the requested fee is reasonable.

13 C. The Requested Fees Under the Lodestar Method

14 “The lodestar calculation begins with the multiplication of the number of 15 hours reasonably expended by a reasonable hourly rate.” Hyundai, 926 F.3d at 16 570. “A court may apply a multiplier to the lodestar amount based on the results 17 achieved, the complexity of the case, the risks involved, the length of the litigation, 18 and the contingent nature of representation.” Zakikhani v. Hyundai Motor Co., 19 2023 WL 4544774, at *8 (C.D. Cal. May 5, 2023) (citing Vizcaino v. Microsoft 20 Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1051 (9th Cir. 2022)). Foremost among the factors “is the 21 benefit obtained for the class.” Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 942.

22 Here, Plaintiffs’ Counsel’s current lodestar is $12,844,728.25, based on 23 13,888 hours of work as of March 6, 2026, excluding fees incurred in seeking fees.
24 See Joint Decl. ¶¶ 61–62 & Exs. A–B.

25 Given the results achieved, the risks of continued litigation, and the 26 substantial work remaining through final approval and implementation, the 27 requested fee is fair and reasonable.

28

1 1. The Hourly Rates Are Reasonable.

2 Reasonable hourly rates are determined by prevailing market rates in the 3 relevant community. LA Int’l Corp. v. Prestige Brands Holdings, Inc., 2026 WL 4 504763, at *12 (9th Cir. Feb. 24, 2026) (“The hourly rates a district court uses in 5 its fee calculation must be ‘in line with those prevailing in the community for 6 similar services by lawyers of reasonably comparable skill, experience[,] and 7 reputation.’”) (quoting Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 895 (1984)). Typically, the 8 forum where the district court sits is considered the relevant community. Shirrod 9 v. Dir., OWCP, 809 F.3d 1082, 1087 (9th Cir. 2015). “The difficulty and skill level 10 of the work performed, and the result achieved—not whether it would have been 11 cheaper to delegate the work to other attorneys—must drive the district court’s 12 decision.” Moreno v. City of Sacramento, 534 F.3d 1106, 1115 (9th Cir. 2008).
13 Similarly, “[a] firm’s size does not directly bear on the factors [courts] must 14 consider when awarding fees—the lawyers’ skill, experience, and reputation.” LA 15 Int’l, 2026 WL 504763, at *14 (holding the district court abused its discretion 16 when it declined to base its lodestar calculation on the prevailing market rate.)

17 Counsel’s rates have been accepted in numerous other class action cases.
18 See e.g., Joint Decl. ¶¶ 63–64; see also LA Int’l, 2026 WL 504763, at *14 (holding 19 the district court abused its discretion when it declined to base its lodestar 20 calculation on the prevailing market rate); Guam Soc’y of Obstetricians & 21 Gynecologists v. Ada, 100 F.3d 691, 696 (9th Cir. 1996) (declarations regarding 22 the prevailing rate in the relevant community suffice to establish a reasonable 23 hourly rate). These rates range from $750 to $1,650 for senior counsel and 24 partners, $750 to $800 for of-counsel attorneys, $390 to $830 for associates, $225 25 to $575 for staff attorneys, $250 to $480 for paralegals, and $250 to $415 for legal 26 assistants and law clerks. Joint Decl. Exs. A–B. They are consistent with the 27
28

1 prevailing rates for litigation partners and associates within Los Angeles. See Joint 2 Decl. Ex. D, Excerpts of 2025 Real Rate Report from Wolters Kluwer.<sup>6</sup>

3 Beasley Allen and DiCello Levitt are highly experienced, with a successful 4 track record in the specialized field of multistate class action automotive defect 5 litigation. Joint Decl. ¶¶ 63–66, 75–77. Counsel’s rates are “fair and reasonable 6 and commensurate with the prevailing market rates for this type of case . . . .” Lou

10 Zakikhani, 2023 WL 4544774, at *9 (accepting hourly rates of $1,285 “in light of 11 Defendants' non-opposition and the fact that this is not a common fund case and 12 so the attorneys' fees award will not reduce the benefits Class Members will 13 receive under the settlement”); Siqueiros v. Gen. Motors LLC, No. 16-CV-07244-14 EMC (N.D. Cal.) (“Siqueiros”), ECF Nos. 728-1, 735 ¶¶ 13–14 (approving 15 $55,763,397 attorneys’ fees award with hourly rates up to $1,675); Joint Decl. ¶¶ 16 63–66.

17 2. The Hours Expended Are Reasonable.

18 Class Counsel dedicated considerable time and effort to this litigation. Joint 19 Decl. ¶¶ 60-61. In total, Class Counsel devoted over 13,888 hours to this case 20 through March 6, 2026. Id. Although Class Counsel worked efficiently and 21 resolved this case prior to a class trial, this favorable resolution would not have 22 been possible without the careful work that went into the case at the outset and 23 throughout. The hours recorded were incurred on matters benefiting the litigation.
24 Given the effort expended and the complexity of the legal and factual issues 25 involved, the hours incurred are reasonable. Id. ¶¶ 60-66.

27 <sup>6</sup> The Real Rate Report states that Third Quartile rates for Los Angeles litigation 28 partners and associates are, respectively, $1,334 and $1,041.

1 Class Counsel will continue to devote substantial time to final approval 2 proceedings, settlement administration, and any appeals, further supporting the 3 reasonableness of the requested fee. Id. ¶¶ 69–70. Based on prior experience, Class 4 Counsel expects to expend another 300 hours on final approval, fees, and 5 settlement administration, separate from any appeals. Id.

6 3. The Requested Multiplier Is Justified.

7 Based on current lodestar, through March 6, 2026, Plaintiffs’ requested fee 8 award represents a multiplier of 2.74. After further attorney time is expended with 9 respect to final approval, this fee motion, and settlement administration issues, 10 Plaintiffs requested fee award will likely represent a multiplier less than 2.7.<sup>7</sup> A 11 multiplier within this range is justified in light of the results achieved, the 12 complexity of the litigation, the risks undertaken, and the contingent nature of the 13 representation. Multipliers within and above this range are routinely approved in 14 comparable cases.

15 “Multipliers in the 3–4 range are common in lodestar awards for lengthy 16 and complex class actions.” Van Vranken v. Atl. Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294, 17 298 (N.D. Cal. 1995); see also Wershba v. Apple Computer, Inc., 91 Cal. App. 4th 18 224, 255 (2001) (lodestar “[m]ultipliers can range from 2 to 4, or even higher.”); 19 Steiner v. Am. Broad. Co., Inc., 248 Fed. Appx. 780, 783 (9th Cir. 2007) (“this 20 multiplier [of 6.85] falls well within the range of multipliers that courts have 21 allowed”); Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051 (multiplier of 3.65); In re Wells Fargo &
22 Co. S’holder Derivative Litig., 845 Fed. Appx. 563, 565 n.3 (9th Cir. 2021)

2 Operations, Inc., 2011 WL 3348055, at *2 (N.D. Cal. June 30, 2011) (collecting 3 cases and approving multiplier of 4.3); Beaver v. Tarsadia Hotels, 2017 WL

6 action.”); Siqueiros, ECF No. 735 (“[T]he lodestar multiplier is below 3, a 7 multiplier well within the standard range”). Class Counsel’s requested multiplier 8 of 2.74 is supported by all of the relevant factors.

9 a. Class Counsel Obtained Substantial Benefits for the 10 Class.

11 This Settlement provides substantial benefits to past, present, and future 12 owners and lessees of approximately 680,000 Class Vehicles. SA § III; Joint Decl.
13 ¶¶ 7, 36–45. First, the Settlement removes the verification hurdle that previously 14 prevented Class Members from obtaining repairs. Without the Settlement, Class 15 Members could not reliably obtain the Replacement Starter under Honda’s 16 warranty extensions because service centers would need to “verify” that the 17 vehicle was suffering from the No-Restart defect—a wholly unreasonable hurdle 18 given the unpredictable nature of the event.<sup>8</sup> On top of this, the Settlement 19 provided for this remedy upon preliminary approval, and at least 16,006 vehicles 20 have since received free starter replacements.

21 Further, because Class Counsel recognized that 28,712 Class Vehicles had 22 been omitted from Honda’s earlier market actions, these omitted vehicles are now 23 eligible to receive both the software update and starter replacement remedies. In 24

25 <sup>8</sup> See ECF 221, Summary Judgment Order (“[T]he hoops that customers had to 26 jump through to secure the repair also illustrates why there is a dispute as to its 27 effectiveness and accessibility. In fact, Honda employees even noted that 28 ‘sometimes’ dealers could not recreate the AIS No-Restart defect, which was required for vehicles to be eligible for the starter update.”).

1 addition, the Settlement secures an Extended Claim Period for model year 2015– 2 2016 Class Vehicles, allowing owners of these vehicles a meaningful chance to 3 take advantage of the benefits of the extended warranty. And, along with the repair 4 remedy, Honda has agreed to fully compensate any Class Members that previously 5 paid out-of-pocket for starter replacement or valve adjustment to remedy the No 6 Restart defect.

7 In sum, the Settlement delivers the essential relief sought—an opportunity 8 for Class Members to safely operate their vehicles and receive the benefit of their 9 bargain. Ryan-Blaufuss v. Toyota Motor Corp., 2023 WL 11932256, at *5 (C.D.
10 Cal. Feb. 3, 2023) (“California law permits an award of attorneys’ fees to a 11 “successful party” in an action resulting in the enforcement of an important right 12 affecting the public interest where a significant benefit has been conferred on a 13 large class of persons.”). In doing so, Class Counsel has furthered the public 14 interest by enforcing consumer protection laws. See Aarons v. BMW of N. Am., 15 LLC, 2014 WL 4090564, at *14 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 29, 2014) (noting that “Class 16 Counsel advanced the public interest by enforcing consumer protection laws...”).
17 The relief obtained here far exceeds the relief obtained in similar automotive class 18 action settlements. See Klee v. Nissan N. Am., Inc., 2015 WL 4538426 (C.D. Cal.
19 July 7, 2015) (extended warranty for 60 months or 60,000 miles, whichever occurs 20 first, with no reimbursement); Kearney v. Hyundai Motor Am., 2013 WL 3287996, 21 at *9 (C.D. Cal. June 28, 2013); Chess v. Volkswagen Grp. of Am., Inc., 2022 WL 22 4133300, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Sep. 12, 2022) (extended warranty to 9 years/90,000 23 miles, and only one repair at capped amount and only within 140 days).

24 Given the outstanding results achieved by this Settlement, Class Counsel’s 25 requested fee award is justified.

26 b. The Risk, Complexity, and Duration of Litigation

27 This multi-state automotive defect class action presented substantial risk, 28 expense, and complexity. Class litigation over automotive defects, including in 1 this matter, is challenging, as extensive fact discovery is necessary to prove a 2 common, class-wide defect. Here, to support the Class Members’ liability case, 3 and defeat Honda’s summary judgment motion, Class Counsel reviewed 180,000 4 pages of documents and deposed employees of three different Honda entities, 5 including the translated deposition of a Japanese executive. To secure the 6 deposition of the Japanese executive, Class Counsel successfully opposed a 7 motion to quash. See ECF No. 124. Class Counsel also defended the depositions 8 of 24 named Plaintiffs.

9 Automotive defect class actions also regularly involve, as it did this one, a 10 battle of the experts on key issues, along with Daubert motion practice that can 11 result in substantial narrowing of permissible testimony with the potential to 12 severely undermine any chance of success of prevailing on the merits.<sup>9</sup> Class 13 Counsel retained two well-credentialed experts and defended them through 14 Daubert.

15 Further, achieving class certification poses its own complexities. See, e.g., 16 Banh v. Am. Honda Motor Co., 2020 WL 4390371, at *3 (C.D. Cal. July 28, 2020) 17 (recognizing that “variances—and even nuances—in the substantive law of the 18 states tend to defeat predominance and preclude certification” and denying 19 certification of 12 state specific classes). Only by succeeding at class certification, 20 which required the understanding and application of various laws from eleven 21 states, did Class Counsel achieve the leverage required to obtain a nationwide

24 likely that this case could ultimately be decided at trial by a ‘battle of the experts’

27 (E.D. Cal. June 9, 2015) (“[T]he case presents complicated issues of safety, notice,

4 Am. Apparel S’holder Litig., 2014 WL 10212865, at *21 (C.D. Cal. July 28, 2014)

6 its expenses reimbursed” weighed in favor of a requested fee award). Class 7 Counsel managed these risks and obtained an excellent settlement. In re 8 Omnivision Techs., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1047 (C.D. Cal. 2008) (“The risk that 9 further litigation might result in plaintiffs not recovering at all, particularly a case 10 involving complicated legal issues, is a significant factor in the award of fees”).

11 In sum, Class Counsel litigated a fact-intensive case under the laws of 12 multiple states, and this, along with the other factors discussed herein, supports the 13 requested multiplier.

14 c. Skill Required and Quality of Work: Class Counsel

9 conclusion confirms the quality of their work here. See In re Heritage Bond Litig., 10 2005 WL 1594389, at *8 (C.D. Cal. June 10, 2005). The Settlement is the direct 11 result of Class Counsel’s significant efforts, which entailed 13,388 hours of time, 12 multiple informal conferences with Magistrate Judge Kim, and defeating Honda’s 13 dismissal and summary judgment motions. Class Counsel also hired, at their own 14 expense, sophisticated experts and a premiere mediator to bring this case to a 15 successful conclusion.

16 The quality of representation is also exemplified by Class Counsel’s post-17 settlement efforts. First, Class Counsel noticed a discrepancy between the number 18 of vehicles on Honda’s VIN list as sent to JND Legal Administration (“JND”), the 19 notice administrator, for the class notice, and the number of vehicles Honda 20 reported in a May 2025 response to an Information Request (IR) sent to Honda by 21 the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (“NHTSA”) as part of an 22 open investigation into the No Restart defect. Joint Decl. ¶¶ 50–51. After raising 23 this discrepancy with Honda, Class Counsel discovered that 28,712 Class Vehicles 24 had been excluded from Honda’s pre-existing market actions for no justifiable 25 reason. Due to Class Counsel’s diligence, these 28,712 Class Vehicles that Honda 26 service centers would not have even recognized as covered under the pre-existing 27 extended warranty (with the “verification” hurdle), are now eligible for free, no-28 hurdle, starter replacement.

1 Second, in the first weeks after notice was disseminated, Class Counsel 2 received several reports from Settlement Class Members, and named Plaintiffs, of 3 Honda dealerships still insisting on defect verification before they would provide 4 a free starter replacement. Id. ¶¶ 51–53. After Class Counsel emphasized the 5 significance of this problem, Honda sent additional messages to its dealerships and 6 service centers, and launched a training module that was required viewing, 7 informing them of their obligations with respect to the No Restart Defect under 8 the Settlement. Id. Thus, Class Counsel has strived to ensure that Class Members 9 receive the benefits to which they are entitled following preliminary approval.

10 Finally, the quality of Class Counsel’s representation is evident from the 11 equally high-quality defense attorneys against whom they successfully litigated 12 this case. See Heritage Bond, 2005 WL 1594389, at *20 (noting “the quality of 13 opposing counsel is important in evaluating the quality of Plaintiff’s counsel’s 14 work.”). From the outset, Honda has been represented by highly capable attorneys 15 with substantial expertise in automotive class action litigation.

16 Class Counsel’s ability to obtain the Settlement for the Class in the face of 17 a formidable opponent further confirms the high quality, skill, and efficiency of 18 Class Counsel’s representation and justifies the fee award.

19 d. Class Counsel Undertook Substantial Risk of Non- 20 Payment and Carried That Risk for Three Years.

21 Class Counsel undertook this years-long action on an entirely contingent 22 basis, assuming a substantial risk that the litigation could yield no recovery and 23 leave them uncompensated for their time and out-of-pocket expenses, Joint Decl.
24 ¶¶ 57–70—a major factor in determining an attorneys’ fee award. See, e.g., Ryan- 25 Blaufuss, 2023 WL 11932256, at *5; In re Wash. Pub. Power Supply Sys. Sec.
26 Litig., 19 F.3d 1291, 1299 (9th Cir. 1994) (“It is an established practice in the 27 private legal [world] to reward attorneys for taking the risk of non-payment by 28 paying them a premium over their normal hourly rates for winning contingency

1 cases.”) (collecting cases); see also Fernandez v. CoreLogic Credco, LLC., 2024
2 WL 3209391, at *16 (S.D. Cal. June 24, 2024); In re Quantum Health Res., Inc.
3 Sec. Litig., 962 F. Supp. 1254, 1257 (C.D. Cal. 1997) (“Because payment is 4 contingent upon receiving a favorable result for the class, an attorney should be 5 compensated both for services rendered and for the risk of loss or nonpayment 6 assumed by accepting and prosecuting the case.”); Moreyra v. Fresenius Med.
7 Care Holdings, Inc., 2013 WL 12248139, at *3 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 7, 2013) 8 (“Attorneys also are entitled to a larger fee award when their compensation is 9 contingent in nature, as here.”) (citing Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1048–50).

10 Without a lodestar multiplier, this level of contingency risk greatly 11 discourages attorneys from taking on meritorious claims under fee-shifting 12 regimes. Class Counsel’s requested multiplier is supported by the relevant factors 13 and well within the acceptable range recognized by the Ninth Circuit. See Moreno
14 v. Pretium Packaging, L.L.C., 2021 WL 3673845, at *3 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 6, 2021) 15 (2.57 multiplier); Spann v. J.C. Penney Corp., 211 F. Supp. 3d 1244, 1265 (C.D.
16 Cal. 2016) (3.07 multiplier is “well within the range for reasonable multipliers”); 17 Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051 n.6 (courts routinely award fee multipliers between 1 18 and 4).<sup>10</sup>

19 D. The Requested Attorneys’ Fees Are Reasonable Under the 20 Percentage of Recovery Method.

21 In determining whether a fee request is reasonable under the percentage of 22 recovery method, courts consider: (1) the results achieved for the class; (2) the risk 23 of litigation; (3) the skill required and quality of work; and (4) the contingent 24 nature of the fee and the financial burden carried by the plaintiffs. Ryan-Blaufuss, 25 2023 WL 11932256, at *5 (citing Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1048–50). As explained 26 above, each of these factors demonstrate the requested award of $35,250,000.00, 27

28 <sup>10</sup> See also cases cited at Section III.C.3, supra.

1 which represents only 13% of the overall economic benefit to the Class is fair and 2 reasonable. See Mirkarimi v. Nev. Prop. 1, LLC, 2016 WL 795878, at *5 (S.D.
3 Cal. Feb. 29, 2016) (“The factors considered in multiplying the lodestar figure are 4 similar to the factors [considered with] the percentage-of-recovery method.”)

5 1. The Requested Fee Is a Reasonable Percentage of the 6 Overall Settlement Value.

7 Fee awards equaling 25% or more of a settlement fund or value are typical.
8 Hyundai, 926 F.3d at 571 (citing Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1047–48 (affirming fees 9 totaling 28% of class recovery) and In re Pac. Enters. Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 379 10 (9th Cir. 1995) (affirming 33% of class recovery)); In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec.
11 Litig., 213 F.3d 454, 457, 463 (9th Cir. 2000) (affirming fee award of 33-1/3% of 12 fund); Morris v. Lifescan, Inc., 54 Fed. Appx. 663, 664 (9th Cir. 2003) (affirming 13 fee award of 33% of fund); Vedachalam v. Tata Consultancy Servs., Ltd., 2013 14 WL 100796, at *2 (N.D. Cal. July 18, 2013) (collecting cases awarding 30% or 15 more); Johnson v. Gen. Mills, Inc., 2013 WL 3213832, at *6 (C.D. Cal. June 17, 16 2013) (approving fee award of 30% of fund); Milburn v. PetSmart, Inc., 2019 WL 17 5566313, at *8–10 (E.D. Cal. Oct. 29, 2019) (awarding 33.3% of fund).

18 Here, the requested award represents only 13% of the estimated $269 19 million value of the Extended Warranty and Extended Claim Period. See Joint 20 Decl. ¶ 59. This estimate reflects the cost to consumers of obtaining similar relief 21 in the market by first estimating the costs to provide the relief under the Settlement, 22 then adjusted these estimates to derive an expected retail amount that consumers 23 would be expected to pay for these benefits. In other words, the $269 million value 24 represents the total estimated out-of-pocket costs (including the estimated retail 25 price of a service contract) that, absent the Settlement, Class Members would incur 26 to purchase similar benefits in the market.

27 This valuation is in accord with courts’ recognition that, in determining 28 settlement value, “the standard is not how much money a company spends on 1 purported benefits, but the value of those benefits to the class.” In re Anthem, Inc.

2 Data Breach Litig., 2018 WL 3960068, at *8 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 17, 2018); see also 3 Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 944 (same); Miller v. Ghirardelli Chocolate Co., 2015 WL
4 758094, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 20, 2015) (“Ninth Circuit precedent requires courts 5 to award class counsel fees based on the total benefits being made available to 6 class members rather than the actual amount that is ultimately claimed.”) (citations 7 omitted).<sup>11</sup>

8 Further, other courts have accepted the settlement valuation method 9 proposed here. See Toyota, 2013 WL 12327929, at *29 n.7 (accepting Plaintiffs’ 10 experts’ $877 million valuation of non-monetary benefits—the Brake Override 11 System installations and Customer Support Program—“based on the average 12 retail cost of such installations . . . and market price of similar extended service 13 contracts offered in the industry.”) (emphasis added); see also In re ZF-TRW 14 Airbag Control Units Prods. Liab. Litig., 2023 WL 9227002, at *15 (C.D. Cal.
15 Nov. 28, 2023) ($25 million in attorneys’ fees award supported by warranty 16 valuation expert opining on the market value of the Extended New Parts 17 Warranty); see, e.g., In re Chrysler-Dodge-Jeep Ecodiesel Mktg., Sales Practices, 18 & Prods. Liab. Litig., 2019 WL 2554232, at *1 (N.D. Cal. May 3, 2019).

19 The requested fee is only 13% of the $269 million Settlement value, well 20 below the Ninth Circuit benchmark.

21 2. Awards in Similar Cases

22 Class Counsel’s requested fee also accords with awards in similar cases.
23 See, e.g., Toyota, 2013 WL 12327929, at *28 (attorneys’ fees of $200 million, paid 24 separately from other class relief); Siqueiros, ECF No. 735 ¶¶ 13–14 (approving 25 _____

26 <sup>11</sup> See also Boeing Co. v. Van Gemert, 444 U.S. 472, 480 (1980) (right of class 27 members “to share the harvest of the lawsuit upon proof of their identity . . . is a 28 benefit in the fund created by the efforts of the class representative and their counsel”).

1 $55,763,396.92 in attorneys’ fees, 37% of $150,000,000 settlement); Cheng, ECF 2 No. 192 ¶¶ 15–16 (fee award of $28,500,000, based on a lodestar of $7,686,448); 3 Cohen, ECF No. 260 ¶¶ 1–3 (fees award of $15.5 million, based on a lodestar of 4 $7,400,818.25); In re Mercedes-Benz Emissions Litig., 2021 WL 8053614, at *5 5 (D.N.J. July 12, 2021) ($80 million in fees, where fees paid in addition to other 6 class relief); In re Volkswagen & Audi Warranty Extension Litig., 89 F. Supp. 3d 7 155, 166–71 (D. Mass. 2015) (on remand, granting enhanced fees of $15,468,000, 8 using base lodestar of $7,734,000).

9 E. Class Counsel’s Expenses Are Reasonable and Should Be 10 Approved.

11 Plaintiffs are also entitled to costs under the Settlement, as well as the 12 Consumers Legal Remedies Act (“CRLA”), California Civil Code § 1780(e), and 13 the Private Attorney General Statute (“PAGA”), California Civil Procedure §
14 1021.5. See Sadowska, 2013 WL 9600948, at *8 (“As the prevailing party, 15 Plaintiffs are entitled to attorneys’ fees and expenses under [CLRA] and 16 [PAGA].”). Reasonable costs and expenses are those that “would normally be 17 charged to a fee paying client.” Trustees of Const. Indus. & Laborers Health & 18 Welfare Trust v. Redland Ins. Co., 460 F.3d 1253, 1257 (9th Cir.2006).

19 Class Counsel’s out-of-pocket expenses currently total $823,131.24. Joint 20 Decl. ¶ 67 & Ex. C. The expenses are of the type typically billed by attorneys to 21 paying clients in the marketplace. Id. Counsel incurred these costs for, inter alia, 22 expert fees, mediation fees, electronic discovery database support, filing and 23 service of process expenses, meals, hotels, travel, computerized research, 24 photocopies, court reporting services, translation services, class notice costs, and 25 postage. Id. The expenses were reasonable and necessary for the successful 26 prosecution of this case and should be approved. Id.

27 Class Counsel will incur additional expenses on this case going forward, 28 including working with JND Legal Administration (the Notice Administrator) and

1 the Settlement Administrator, communicating with Settlement Class Members, 2 and attending the Final Approval Hearing. Id. ¶ 69. Class Counsel’s request an 3 order granting reimbursement of Plaintiff’s counsel’s reasonable expenses and 4 costs of no less than $823,131.24, with any future costs to be substantiated.

5 C. The Settlement Class Representative Service Awards Should Be
6 Approved.

7 “Incentive awards are fairly typical in class action cases,” Rodriguez v. W.
8 Publ’g Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 958 (9th Cir. 2009) (citing Newberg on Class Actions 9 § 11:38 (4th ed. 2008)), as they promote the public policy of encouraging 10 individuals to undertake the responsibility of representative lawsuits. Rodriguez, 11 563 F.3d at 958–59; see also Edwards v. Nat’l Milk Producers Fed’n, 2017 WL 12 3616638, at *11 (N.D. Cal. June 26, 2017) (same).

13 Here, the Class Representatives’ efforts were instrumental in achieving the 14 Settlement and justify the amount requested. They came forward to prosecute this 15 litigation for the Class’s benefit; sought successfully to remedy a widespread 16 wrong; and have conferred valuable benefits upon the Class. They provided a 17 valuable service to the Class and devoted substantial time and effort here by: (a) 18 providing information and input in connection with the drafting of the Complaints; 19 (b) overseeing the prosecution of the litigation; (c) agreeing to make their Class 20 Vehicles available for inspection; (d) responding to discovery, including searching 21 for and producing requested documents; (e) being deposed; (f) repeatedly 22 consulting with Class Counsel; and (g) being involved in all aspects of the case, 23 including settlement. Plaintiffs were each prepared for and committed to continue 24 their service, including attending and testifying at trial. See Joint Decl. ¶¶ 71–74.

25 Service awards of $7,500 each for the Settlement Class Representatives are 26 reasonable under the circumstances and in line with awards approved by federal 27 courts in California and elsewhere. Siqueiros, ECF No. 735 ¶ 15 (service awards 28 of $30,000 to each plaintiff “are fair and reasonable for their efforts in prosecuting

1 the claims in the Settlement Agreement”); In re High-Tech Emp. Antitrust Litig., 2 2015 WL 5158730, at *18 (N.D. Cal. Sep. 2, 2015) (awarding each of five class 3 representatives amounts ranging from $80,000 to $120,000 in case that settled pre-4 trial); Galeener v. Source Refrigeration & HVAC, Inc., 2015 WL 12977077, at *2 5 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 21, 2015) (collecting cases and holding that service awards of 6 $27,000, $25,000, $15,000, and $2,000 were “fair and reasonable”). Moreover, as 7 with attorney’s fees and expenses, the requested service awards will not reduce 8 Class-wide relief.

9 IV. CONCLUSION

10 For the reasons set forth above, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court 11 grant this Motion.
